

Regulatory Systems (Primary Industries) Amendment Bill

Government Bill

As reported from the Primary Production Committee

Commentary

Recommendation

The Primary Production Committee has examined the Regulatory Systems (Primary Industries) Amendment Bill and recommends that it be passed. We recommend all amendments unanimously.

Introduction

This omnibus bill would amend legislation administered by the Ministry for Primary Industries. The policy objective is to improve regulatory systems to ensure that they are effective and efficient and that they accord with best regulatory practice. The amendments seek to:

- clarify and update statutory provisions to give effect to the purpose of various Acts and their provisions
- address regulatory duplication, gaps, errors, and inconsistencies within and between different pieces of legislation
- ensure that the regulatory systems remain up to date and relevant
- reduce administrative burden for regulators and regulated parties.

The bill is a vehicle for smaller regulatory fixes to be made in a timely and cost-effective way. By their nature, regulatory systems bills are designed to “make many necessary and varied amendments across a sector and in multiple Acts as long as there is broad support for them”.¹

The bill was referred to the Primary Production Committee on 27 March 2024. On 28 March 2024, the Minister in charge of the bill proposed additional amendments for inclusion in the bill. On 17 September 2024, the Minister proposed further amendments for inclusion in the bill. On both of those occasions we called for submissions over a further period to seek feedback on the proposals. The Business Committee authorised our consideration of the proposed amendments.

As introduced, the bill would amend (or, in some cases, repeal) 19 Acts of Parliament, and associated regulations.

The bill would repeal the following Acts:

- Animal Products (Ancillary and Transitional Provisions) Act 1999
- Food Safety Law Reform Act 2018
- Forests (West Coast Accord) Act 2000
- Hop Industry Restructuring Act 2003
- Wool Industry Restructuring Act 2003

It would amend the following Acts:

- Agricultural Compounds and Veterinary Medicines Act 1997
- Animal Products Act 1999
- Animal Welfare Act 1999
- Biosecurity Act 1993
- Commodity Levies Act 1990
- Dairy Industry Restructuring Act 2001
- Fisheries Act 1996
- Food Act 2014
- Forests Act 1949
- Kaikoura (Te Tai o Marokura) Marine Management Act 2014
- National Animal Identification and Tracing Act 2012
- Primary Products Marketing Act 1953
- Walking Access Act 2008
- Wine Act 2003

The Minister has proposed further amendments to some of the above Acts, and amendments to an additional three Acts, as follows:

- Forests (Legal Harvest Assurance) Amendment Act 2023
- New Zealand Horticulture Export Authority Act 1987
- Organic Products and Production Act 2023.

Legislative scrutiny

As part of our consideration of the bill, we have examined its consistency with principles of legislative quality. We have no issues regarding the legislation's design to bring to the attention of the House.

Proposed amendments

We have set out our recommended amendments, including those proposed by the Minister, in the attached version of the bill.

We consider the proposed changes to be mostly minor or technical in nature. We refer readers to explanatory material for these, which can be found in the departmental report, the supplementary departmental report, and the Minister's two letters. The documents are available on the Parliament website.

Below we note some of the main amendments that we think should be drawn to readers' attention.

Agricultural Compounds and Veterinary Medicines Act 1997

Part 1 of the bill would amend the Agricultural Compounds and Veterinary Medicines Act 1997.

Applications to register a trade name product

Section 9 of the Act provides that a person may not apply to register a trade name product if the product is exempt from registration requirements. The current exemption for some inhibitor substances would end one year after the bill receives Royal assent. We recommend inserting clause 4A to enable applications to register a trade name product if there is an end date for its exemption from registration.

Biosecurity Act 1993

Part 5 of the bill would amend the Biosecurity Act 1993 and regulations made under that Act.

Declarations at the border can be made orally

Section 154N(21) of the Act sets out that a person commits an offence if they erroneously declare that they are not in possession of any (or all) goods specified in a declaration that the person is required to make about the goods. Clause 112 of the bill sought to amend this section to clarify that declarations at the border by passengers include oral responses to questions asked by an inspector. However, making this clarification for section 154N(21) may have unintended consequences for other provisions in the Act that refer to declarations and do not contain a similar clarification. Therefore, to avoid any unintended consequences, we recommend deleting clause 112 from the bill.

Seizure of unauthorised goods

Section 116(1) enables an inspector to seize unauthorised goods (and other goods in certain situations) when exercising specified powers under the Act. Clause 101 of the bill would amend the section to allow the seizure of containers, packages, or things in which the unauthorised goods are contained.

Inspectors can use the powers of seizure under section 116(1) but authorised persons cannot. We recommend amending section 116 to give authorised persons those powers.

Fisheries Act 1996

Part 8 of the bill would amend the Fisheries Act 1996.

Tenders not treated as separate fishing vessels

Recently a High Court case found that a tender can be treated as a separate fishing vessel. There are concerns that obligations from other regulations under the Fisheries Act would apply if the tender were treated as a separate fishing vessel.

The Minister proposes amending the Act to provide that a tender registered to its mother vessel is not treated as a separate fishing vessel for the purposes of the Act, and therefore does not require separate registration or reporting obligations. We recommend inserting clause 151A to make this clear in section 108 of the Act. We also recommend inserting clause 134(5) to make the interpretation of “transshipment” under the Act clearer on this point.

Deemed value rates

Clause 147 would amend section 75 to enable the Minister to change annual and interim deemed value rates during a fishing year. Changing interim deemed value rates may cause operational challenges. Therefore, we recommend amending clause 147 so that only annual deemed value rates can be changed during a fishing year, and not interim deemed value rates.

Liabilities of directors and managers

Section 246(1) of the Act sets out that, if a body corporate commits an offence under the Act, a director or manager also commits an offence if certain criteria are met. Subsection (2) specifies that the director or manager is liable on conviction to the appropriate penalty for the provision creating the offence.

Previously, section 246 was considered to deem directors and managers liable for the same offence as that committed by the body corporate. In 2018, the Court of Appeal held that section 246 creates a separate and distinct offence by directors and managers of body corporates.

Section 252 of the Act sets out the penalties for offences under the Act. Clause 170 would amend section 252 to specify penalties for offences for which directors and managers are liable under section 246.

We think the Act could be clearer about the applicable penalties. We recommend inserting new clause 169A to amend section 246(2) to make it clear that a director or manager of a body corporate who has committed an offence under section 246(1) is liable on conviction to the penalty in section 252 that corresponds to the provision that creates the offence by the body corporate.

Forfeiture value settings and jurisdiction

Section 256(2) of the Act sets the threshold for publicly notifying details of forfeit property. The threshold was set in 2004 at $200 in estimated value. We recommend increasing the value to $500.

A forfeiture can be ordered by a court with criminal jurisdiction. Section 256 of the Act sets out the process for how a person can apply to a court for relief from the effects of forfeiture. However, the section does not state whether the applications for relief should be considered under criminal or civil jurisdiction.

Dealing with an application for relief under the same court that ordered the forfeiture would be more efficient and easier for both the applicant and the ministry. The Minister proposes amending section 256 to state that a court with criminal jurisdiction should consider applications for relief from the effects of forfeiture. That had largely been the approach in the past, until changes in 2020 when the District Court began treating it as a civil matter. We recommend inserting clause 172A(2) to specify the jurisdiction.

Disposal methods for commercial fishers

Commercial fishers may not sell or otherwise dispose of landed fish or other aquatic life except to a licensed fish receiver, in limited wharf sales, or by an approved alternative method of disposal in accordance with regulations under section 297 of the Act. The Director-General of the Ministry for Primary Industries is empowered to approve alternative methods of disposal. However, commercial fishers must apply to the ministry to use the method, with each application considered individually.

The Minister proposes amending the Act to enable regulations to set alternative disposal methods for commercial fishers to use for disposal of landed, commercially caught fish under section 191(1)(c), with any associated conditions and approvals required. This would allow alternative disposal methods to be prescribed that do not require individual applications for approval. To effect this change, we recommend inserting clauses 168A and 177(1AAA) to amend sections 191 and 297 of the Act.

Landing exceptions—transitional date

Some fish species are subject to transitional landing exceptions. Transitional landing exceptions for species listed in Schedule 1AA of the Act, clauses 6 and 7(2) will cease to exist on 1 October 2026, unless they have been provided for by the Minister under section 72A(1) in a new instrument.

The Minister in charge of the bill proposes extending the transitional date for landing exceptions from 30 September 2026 to 30 September 2028. The extension is needed because the process for evaluating the species against section 72A is taking longer than expected, and on-board cameras may provide more information to inform the process, possibly allowing a more flexible framework for landings and discards.

We recommend inserting clause 179C(1) and (5) into the bill to extend the transitional landing exceptions in Schedule 1AA, clauses 6(1)(a) and 7(2) from 2026 to 2028.

Food Act 2014

Part 9 of the bill would amend the Food Act 2014.

Issuing of domestic food standards

Section 404 of the Act enables the Minister to issue domestic food standards if New Zealand chooses to opt out of standards that have been developed, or are being developed, under the Agreement between the Government of Australia and the Government of New Zealand concerning a Joint Food Standards System 1995 (Food Treaty) for inclusion in the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code.

Clause 234 would amend section 404 to also enable the Minister to issue a domestic food standard if joint standards have not been developed, and are not being developed, for inclusion in the joint code. Currently, there is no power under the Food Act to develop a new domestic food standard in those circumstances.

Some submitters raised concerns about the provision. Some were concerned that the proposed power is too broad and wide-ranging to be included in the bill, and that it potentially overrode the provisions of the Food Treaty. Others suggested it was duplicative and unnecessary.

We note the importance of the legislation being consistent with the Food Treaty. The provision is only intended to be invoked once it has been determined through the Joint Food System that there is no Australian interest in pursuing a joint approach, and where there are exceptional New Zealand conditions that necessitate a domestic standard.

To better reflect the above, we recommend amending clause 234 to add an additional requirement in the amended section 404(1). Before the powers in the provision could be used, the Minister should be satisfied that there is no joint interest for joint standards to be developed and that the specific conditions in New Zealand require a domestic standard.

Consistency of definitions about standards

The Food Act enables joint food standards and domestic food standards to be made. If this bill is enacted, the Food Act would also enable temporary food standards to be made. Standards under the Food Act also apply to animal material and products under the Animal Products Act, and to wine made under the Wine Act. We recommend amending the three Acts to improve consistency of definitions and use of joint, domestic, and temporary food standards.

National Animal Identification and Tracing Act 2012

Part 15 of the bill would amend the National Animal Identification and Tracing Act 2012. Clause 269 would amend the Act to specify the purposes for which an authorised person may share core NAIT data. We understand the intention of this amendment was to facilitate information-sharing in certain situations, such as assisting Police with inquiries. The ministry proposed deleting this provision to enable further work, separate from the bill, to address submitters' concerns about the scope of the information-sharing provision. We agree, and recommend deleting clause 269 from the bill.

Walking Access Act 2008

Part 17 of the bill would amend the Walking Access Act 2008. That Act established the New Zealand Walking Access Commission. The Commission has a broad role relating to access, which is not limited to walking, and it has since rebranded itself as the Outdoor Access Commission. The Minister proposes amending the Act to reflect this change. We also recommend changing the name of the Act to the “Outdoor Access Act”, amending the provisions of the Act to reflect this, and making consequential changes to other legislation.

New Zealand Horticulture Export Authority Act 1987

We recommend inserting new Part 15A into the bill to implement the Minister’s proposed amendment to section 62 of the New Zealand Horticulture Export Authority Act 1987. Section 62 empowers regulations to be made setting the fees the Authority can charge to licensed exporters. Our new clause 281B would enable regulations to:

- provide for waivers or refunds as well as exemptions from fees in any particular case or class of case
- authorise the Authority to waive a fee, give exemptions from paying a fee, or refund a fee, if the Authority is satisfied that a climatic or other event has resulted in a loss of export produce for the fee payer and, as a result, the fee payer has been unable to benefit from the Authority’s services.

We also recommend inserting clause 281D to amend the New Zealand Horticulture Export Authority (Fees and Levies) Regulations 2017 to insert a regulation authorising the Authority to exempt a person from the annual monitoring of compliance fee on the grounds in the second bullet above.

Forests (Legal Harvest Assurance) Amendment Act 2023

We recommend inserting new Part 11A into the bill to implement the Minister’s two proposed amendments to the Forests (Legal Harvest Assurance) Amendment Act 2023. The amendments would enable regulations to be made to require information to be listed publicly and a power to enable minor changes to agency-drafted legislation without a full statutory process.

Organic Products and Production Act 2023

The Minister proposed several amendments to the Organic Products and Production Act 2023. We recommend inserting new Part 15B into the bill to incorporate these. The amendments would clarify some regulation-making powers under the Act and provide additional scope for regulations in certain areas. A further amendment would enable the making of minor changes to delegated legislation without the full statutory process, where the effect of the change is no more than minor or corrects minor or technical errors.

Committee process

The Regulatory Systems (Primary Industries) Amendment Bill was referred to the committee on 27 March 2024.

We called for submissions on the bill on 28 March 2024 with a closing date of 9 May 2024. We received a request from the Minister to consider further proposed amendments to legislation for inclusion in the bill. We called for a second round of submissions from 23 May 2024 to 8 July 2024. We received a second request from the Minister to consider further proposed amendments, so we issued a further call for submissions on 3 October 2024 with a closing date of 18 October 2024.

In total, we received and considered submissions from 32 interested groups and individuals. We heard oral evidence from 6 submitters at hearings in Wellington and via videoconference.

Advice on the bill was provided by the Ministry for Primary Industries. The Office of the Clerk provided advice on the bill's legislative quality. The Parliamentary Counsel Office assisted with legal drafting.

The Regulations Review Committee wrote to us on 5 June 2024 and 11 September 2024. In those letters, the committee reported to us on the powers to consolidate secondary legislation, the ability for regulations to amend a definition of “primary processor” under the Animal Products Act, and the amendments proposed by the Minister in relation to the Dairy Industry Restructuring Act 2001 and the Food Act 2014. The ministry responded to these queries as part of its written advice.
